BIBLE

Why Bible journaling? Two words...Linger longer.

.....

Bible journaling is creative, but it is not about the creativity. Bible journaling is artistic, but it is not about the artistry. Bible journaling is a devotional style—a Bible study method—an avenue to help you spend more time with God in His Word.

How many times have you closed your Bible or your daily devotional book, and completely forgotten what you read? Too many, right? Well, you are not alone! We are busy. We do things so fast, we don't have time to think, listen, and soak it all up.

Bible journaling is simply creating a visual expression of what you have read. The best part about visual journaling is that you linger longer in the Word as you think about what you will paint, draw, sticker, or washi tape... Lingering longer leads to listening well and learning more about the Lord. And that is what it is all about, after all.

Meet Shanna— the dreamer of Illustrated Faith.

Shanna is a pastor's wife who, like many of us, struggled to "love her Bible." One day she crashed her love for scrapbooking with Bible journaling. What she hit upon was oh, so different from other Bible journalers. In fact, at first she wondered if it was "legal" to do what she was doing! But when others saw her unique expression, they were inspired—and a movement began. All because one person took a chance and tried something different. Join the adventure today.

Who doesn't need more margin in life?

DaySpring proudly introduces the Illustrating Bible!
A Bible that has been specifically designed for the Bible journaler.

- Twice the margin as a traditional journaling Bible!
- Spiral bound, so it lies flat and grows with all your entries!
- The first ever square Bible, perfect for social media sharing!
- Thicker paper than traditional Bibles means reduced bleed through!

ILLUSTRATING BIBLE

1. When the king, the great Darius had put to charge of the revenues of the house of God, the king's eunuchs had also prepared a great room for the women they had previously identified as great beauties, who had been brought to the king's palace from all the provinces of the kingdom.
2. There were in this room, besides the king's wives, seven hundred concubines, who were to be ready to go to the king's chamber when he desired.
3. The king also chose out of all the Jews one woman to be his queen, and she was named Vashti.
4. When the king had said these things, he said to his eunuchs, Go and assemble all the women who were in the house of the king, and stand before me, that I may see them, and that I may choose out of them the queen who shall be my wife.
5. When the eunuchs had heard these words, they went and assembled all the women who were in the house of the king, and stood before the king.
6. The king said to them, Stand before me, that I may see you, and that I may choose out of you the queen who shall be my wife.
7. When the women had heard these words, they were very angry, because the king had commanded that they should come, and they had not come.
8. The king said to them, Why have you not come when I commanded you to come? For you know that I have said to you, Stand before me, that I may see you, and that I may choose out of you the queen who shall be my wife.
9. When the women had heard these words, they were very angry, because the king had commanded that they should come, and they had not come.
10. The king said to them, Why have you not come when I commanded you to come? For you know that I have said to you, Stand before me, that I may see you, and that I may choose out of you the queen who shall be my wife.
11. When the women had heard these words, they were very angry, because the king had commanded that they should come, and they had not come.
12. The king said to them, Why have you not come when I commanded you to come? For you know that I have said to you, Stand before me, that I may see you, and that I may choose out of you the queen who shall be my wife.
13. When the women had heard these words, they were very angry, because the king had commanded that they should come, and they had not come.
14. The king said to them, Why have you not come when I commanded you to come? For you know that I have said to you, Stand before me, that I may see you, and that I may choose out of you the queen who shall be my wife.
15. When the women had heard these words, they were very angry, because the king had commanded that they should come, and they had not come.
16. The king said to them, Why have you not come when I commanded you to come? For you know that I have said to you, Stand before me, that I may see you, and that I may choose out of you the queen who shall be my wife.
17. When the women had heard these words, they were very angry, because the king had commanded that they should come, and they had not come.
18. The king said to them, Why have you not come when I commanded you to come? For you know that I have said to you, Stand before me, that I may see you, and that I may choose out of you the queen who shall be my wife.
19. When the women had heard these words, they were very angry, because the king had commanded that they should come, and they had not come.
20. The king said to them, Why have you not come when I commanded you to come? For you know that I have said to you, Stand before me, that I may see you, and that I may choose out of you the queen who shall be my wife.

VASHTI ANSWERS THE KING

1. These words had come through the ears of Vashti, who was the queen of the king, Darius. She was a woman of great beauty, and she was very beloved by the king. She had been chosen by the king to be his queen, and she had been crowned with the crown of the kingdom.

2. When the king had said these things, she was very angry, because the king had commanded that she should come, and she had not come.

3. She answered the king, saying, I have done as the king commanded me, but I have not come, because I was unwilling to do what the king had commanded me to do.

4. The king said to her, Why have you not come when I commanded you to come? For you know that I have said to you, Stand before me, that I may see you, and that I may choose out of you the queen who shall be my wife.

5. She answered the king, saying, I have done as the king commanded me, but I have not come, because I was unwilling to do what the king had commanded me to do.

THE KING'S DECREE

1. The king said to his eunuchs, Go and assemble all the women who were in the house of the king, and stand before me, that I may see them, and that I may choose out of them the queen who shall be my wife.

2. When the eunuchs had heard these words, they went and assembled all the women who were in the house of the king, and stood before the king.

3. The king said to them, Stand before me, that I may see you, and that I may choose out of you the queen who shall be my wife.

4. When the women had heard these words, they were very angry, because the king had commanded that they should come, and they had not come.

5. The king said to them, Why have you not come when I commanded you to come? For you know that I have said to you, Stand before me, that I may see you, and that I may choose out of you the queen who shall be my wife.

THE SEARCH FOR A NEW QUEEN

1. The king said to his eunuchs, Go and assemble all the women who were in the house of the king, and stand before me, that I may see them, and that I may choose out of them the queen who shall be my wife.

2. When the eunuchs had heard these words, they went and assembled all the women who were in the house of the king, and stood before the king.

3. The king said to them, Stand before me, that I may see you, and that I may choose out of you the queen who shall be my wife.

4. When the women had heard these words, they were very angry, because the king had commanded that they should come, and they had not come.

5. The king said to them, Why have you not come when I commanded you to come? For you know that I have said to you, Stand before me, that I may see you, and that I may choose out of you the queen who shall be my wife.

ESTHER BECOMES QUEEN

1. Esther was a Jewish woman who had been taken to the king's palace when she was young. She was very beautiful, and she was very beloved by the king.

2. When the king had said these things, she was very angry, because the king had commanded that she should come, and she had not come.

3. She answered the king, saying, I have done as the king commanded me, but I have not come, because I was unwilling to do what the king had commanded me to do.

4. The king said to her, Why have you not come when I commanded you to come? For you know that I have said to you, Stand before me, that I may see you, and that I may choose out of you the queen who shall be my wife.

5. She answered the king, saying, I have done as the king commanded me, but I have not come, because I was unwilling to do what the king had commanded me to do.
